

HISTORY FACTopia!

There is something special about History FACTopia. Every fact is linked to the next, and in the most surprising and even hilarious ways. Can you find the words which link each history fact? Use each word twice to connect one fact to the next. The first one has been done for you.

In 1935, a Romanian artist began adding _____ and poems to the tombstones of a _____ known as the Merry Cemetery.

In 1870, when its _____ became too full, a church in what is now Czechia was converted into a tomb, featuring art made from human _____.

More than 7,000 years ago, _____ were used as _____ in ancient Mesopotamia.

The _____ game Perudo comes from the ancient Peruvian game Dudo.

End here!

The notes of a _____ piece may be hidden in one of Leonardo da Vinci's _____.

Centuries-old Tuvan _____ singing is a form of _____ in which people can sing more than one note simultaneously.

A British folk remedy prescribed wrapping sweaty _____ around your neck to cure a sore _____.

An early version of bowling began as a religious ceremony in _____ some 1,700 years ago.

Start here!

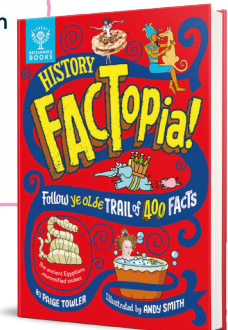

In medieval _____, the nobility often wore shoes that were so long the _____ had to be supported with stuffing.

Ancient Egyptians may have kept their _____ cosy _____ with two separate toe sections.

WORDS: bones, dice, Europe, graveyard, music, paintings, socks, toes, throat

Out now!

HISTORY FACTopia!

ANSWERS

Did you put the words in the correct place to complete the mind-blowing, crazy-cool facts from yesteryear? Enjoy a fun-filled journey through hundreds more wow-worthy facts today with History FACTopia!: Follow Ye Olde Trail of 400 Facts.

In 1935, a Romanian artist began adding paintings and poems to the tombstones of a graveyard known as the Merry Cemetery.

In 1870, when its graveyard became too full, a church in what is now Czechia was converted into a tomb, featuring art made from human bones.

More than 7,000 years ago, bones were used as dice in ancient Mesopotamia.

The dice game Perudo comes from the ancient Peruvian game Dudo.

End here!

The notes of a music piece may be hidden in one of Leonardo da Vinci's paintings.

Centuries-old Tuvan throat singing is a form of music in which people can sing more than one note simultaneously.

A British folk remedy prescribed wrapping sweaty socks around your neck to cure a sore throat.

An early version of bowling began as a religious ceremony in Europe some 1,700 years ago.

In medieval Europe, the nobility often wore shoes that were so long the toes had to be supported with stuffing.

Ancient Egyptians may have kept their toes cosy in socks with two separate toe sections.

Start here!

Out now!